

LITERARY NOTES. Mr. Maguire, M. P. for Cork, is, we hear, preparing a work on the Jews.

The death is announced of Herr Prutz, the well-known German novelist, dramatist, and lyric poet.

Mr. Arthur Helps is preparing a memoir of Mrs. Thomas Browne, the well-known contractor and engineer.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy, author of "The Lays of Marie de France," will shortly produce a new volume of poems and songs.

Mrs. Elliot, "The Idle Woman in Italy," is engaged on a new work, shortly to appear, called "Old Court Life of France."

Miss Fox is about to publish a History of Holland House. The book will be rich in anecdotes of Charles James Fox, Addison, Rogers, and others.

A translation of Elizabeth Wille's novel, "Johannes Ota," which has been published last season, by Messrs. H. S. King & Co., in London.

One of the best of Romanian poets, Eliaade Radulesco, who lately died. An interesting account of this writer appeared in the "Rivista Orientale" of 1867, from the pen of the Princess D'Estria.

Prof. Giuseppe Pittre has published, in Palermo, a review of the progress of Literature, Science, and Art in Sicily during the past year, under the title of "La Lettera, le Scienze e le Arti in Sicilia negli anni 1870-1871."

The "Levant Herald" announces that Mr. George Abdullah, the photographer, of Constantinople, has appeared as an author. He writes upon the Councils, the Patriarchate, and other matters in Armenian.

His work is said to be chiefly founded on the investigations of Dr. Mordechai.

The Rev. George W. Cox, M. A., and Mr. Estance H. Jones (authors of "Popular Romances of the Middle Ages") have a new volume in press, entitled "Tales of the Volung and Nidung Tales, Walter of Aquitaine, Hugolinch, the Gudrun Tale, Frithof, Grettir the Strong, Gunnlaug and Helga, and Gunnar Niflung."

The last new part of Dr. Tischendorf's larger Greek Testament includes the portion from "Galatians" to the beginning of "Hebrews." At the same time the Professor publishes the first part of a "minor" edition of the Greek Testament, containing the concluding part of the larger edition in the Autumn, and the second half of the minor edition in the beginning of the next year.

A new volume of Cardinal Mailli's Bibliotheca Patrum has just appeared at Rome, edited by Dr. Cazzani. It contains the epistles and fragments of Theodorus Studite, Georgius Melchioris, History of Dogma, Sermons of Simon Stylites, and other fragments. The same authorities have also published an Appendix to the Works of Cardinal Mai, containing the epistles and fragments which he had collected from different codices, and an edition of John Scotus's "Erigena."

Prof. Lechler of Leipzig is about to publish a life of the great Reformer, Wicliffe. He has been engaged in this work for several years, and has discovered in the library of Vienna several manuscripts of Wicliffe which have never been published; he has also made an exact examination of the English manuscripts. His work will throw considerable additional light on Wicliffe's intimate connection with Huss and the Bohemian reformers. The work is in the English language, and will probably be published in the course of the Autumn.
